Regenerating a Display Program

If you wish to restore an edited display program to its original format, you may issue the RG command from the Report Definitions screen (LR function). Adabas Review then regenerates the display program.

▶ To regenerate a display program

1. Enter the RG command on the selection line preceding the report name.

   A message is displayed when the regeneration is completed.