

Messages and Codes

During Entire Net-Work execution, a variety of messages may be issued, usually to the operator console or the print data set. This documentation describes the messages for the Entire Net-Work control programs and line driver modules. The messages are listed alphabetically and the different groups are identified by a section heading.

Messages and Codes issued from Entire Net-Work are described under the following headings:

	Message formats	Describes how you can identify an Entire Net-Work message and its origin.
	Response Codes	Describes Entire Net-Work, Adabas, DCAM and SNA codes.
	NETnnnn - Entire Net-Work Control Module Messages	Describes the Entire Net-Work control module messages.
	NETB* - Entire Net-Work Expandable Buffer Pool Messages	Describes the Entire Net-Work expandable buffer pool messages.
	NETH* - SMH Line Driver Messages	Describes the SMH line driver messages.
	NETInn - ADAIOR Messages	Describes the ADAIOR messages.
	NETM* - ADAMPM Messages	Describes the ADAMPM messages.
	NETP* - Simple Connection Line Driver Operator Messages	Describes the Simple Connection Line Driver messages
	NETU* - Batch Utility Program Messages	Describes the batch utility program messages.
	Software AG Internal Transport Subsystem Messages	Explains the possible internal transport subsystem messages you might receive during its processing.
	Abend Codes	Lists abend (abnormal end) codes that may be returned.