

%T+ and %T- - Position Cursor on Protected Fields

These commands are only applicable to Siemens terminals.

The following command options are available:

Command	Function
%T+	After you issue this command, you can position the cursor anywhere on the screen, including protected fields (however, the protected fields remain write-protected). This may be useful, for example, for action bar processing (see the terminal command %YC).
%T-	With this command, you cancel the effect of the command %T+.
