Creating Component Based Applications - Class

Classes are used to create and distribute component based applications in a client/server environment. For more information, refer to the NaturalX section of the Programming Guide and to the Class Builder section of the Editors documentation.