SYSFILE

This command is used to display work and print files information. You can obtain information about the following:

- reports,

- logical devices,

- defined physical devices,

- defined printer profiles, and

- defined workfiles.

See also Work and Print Files in Using Natural Studio.

For further information on work and print files, see

- Printer Profiles in the Configuration Utility documentation, and

- Device/Report Assignments in the Configuration Utility documentation,

- Work Files in the Operations documentation,

SYSFILE in a Remote Mainframe Environment

You can obtain the following work and print files information:

- type of assignment,

- record format,

- logical record length,

- block size,

- status,

- dynamic parameter specification.