

SYSMAIN

SYSMAIN

This command is used to invoke the SYSMAIN utility. You use this utility to perform operations such as copy, move and delete on Natural objects. The SYSMAIN utility is also used to transfer objects within the Natural system from one environment to another using the import function.

For further information, see SYSMAIN Utility in the Tools and Utilities documentation.

Note:

This command is not executable in batch mode.