XI release 2.0 has a limitation on the character range for strings in the SOAP document used to build the SAP XML Message. The strings passed in the SOAP document must consist of US-ASCII (7-bit) characters only. Non-ASCII characters will not be passed correctly in the SAP XML Message. This is a limitation of XI, not of the webMethods adapter. SOAP documents will still be generated and tagged as using the UTF-8 (Unicode) encoding, which is standard for SOAP and XML documents.
